

Community reps on wellbeing and social care wanted!

Delivery of wellbeing and social care services will change radically by 2011 - this work is called Business Transformation or Personalised Budgets

Hackney's Community Empowerment Network (CEN) is looking for experienced, pragmatic people who understand the issues from small voluntary and community sector (VCS) organisations and the priorities of Hackney Council to influence how these changes happen for local people.

Apply before 1 February 2010 to be one of Hackney's next CEN community representatives!

Hackney's Community Empowerment Network (CEN) is recruiting people with experience of wellbeing and social care from the perspective of Hackney's communities.

- Could you represent the diverse voices of VCS providers?
- Could you work productively with Hackney Council in small working groups to ensure the changes happen in a way that will work for Hackney?
- Could you feedback the results of complex meetings clearly?

If the answers are yes – please apply – we need you!

Once selected as a CEN rep, we can offer you:

- support with feeding back and gathering views
- wider policy briefings and good practice we find from other boroughs
- a indepth induction to the CEN and the role
- the opportunity to become the personalisation expert for Hackney
- the opportunity to contribute to the most radical change in wellbeing and social care services for over twenty years.

As CEN rep, your role will be to:

- represent the views of the VCS at Transformation Working Group meetings
- feedback to the CEN about key decisions made at these meetings.

This is a voluntary role, although some expenses will be paid.

Apply before 1 February 2010 to be one of Hackney's next CEN community representatives!
